STATE INSTITUTE WILL BE INVITED

McCracken County Farmer Will Meet Here Saturday.

Samuel Fowler and Charles Lamont Will Tell What They Saw At Villa Ridge.

KENTUCKY BERRIES ARE BEST

Plans for capturing the State Farmers' Institute for next year will be put on foot at a meeting of the McCracken County Institute, which meets at the court house in Paducah, Saturday afternoon, June 9, at 2 o'clock.

The executive committee of the state institute, which will choose the place for the holding of the meeting meets at Louisville, June 12 and McCracken county probably will send a delegation to Louisville to urge the claims of this city for the meeting.

The state institute is attended by the most progressive farmers of Kentucky and the commissioner of agriculture secures the best speakers and most scientific agriculturists in the country to address the farmers. For this reason the bringing of the institute to Paducah will be of incalculable benefit to the farmers of McCracken county, who without expense will be enabled to attend the sessions and listen to the speeches.

At the county meeting Samuel Fowler and Charles Lamont, who went to Villa Ridge, Ill., and investigated the method of raising and disposing of berries and fruit will report to the institute what they saw. Mr. Lamont said that while berries were selling on the market in Paducah for 75 cents they were selling in carload lots at Villa Ridge for $2 per crate. The McCracken county berries he said, are a better quality.

A large attendance Saturday is expected.

The Arctic region, Mr. Wellman declared, was more favorable to air ship work than France and the United States, because of the constancy of the temperature about zero and continuous daylight, and also because of the practicability of using guide ropes and other drag anchors. The Wellman expedition, he said, will utilize the true seamanship of the aerial sea and not depend on a raft as Andre did in his aerial attempt.

HARNESS THIEF MAY BE ARRESTED

Chief Collins Believes He Has the Right Man.

John Polk, Colored, Identified as Having Disposed of Some Stolen Property.

PRISONER DENIES THE CHARGE

In the arrest of John Polk, colored, residing on South Tenth street, the police think they have captured the "harness thief" who has been looting stables for the past two months.

Polk was arrested this morning by Officers Scott Ferguson and Ernest Hill near Eighth and Harrison streets. He was identified as the negro who sold a set of harness to Henry Coleman, the dairyman. The harness was later identified by M. M. Tucker as his property. It had been stolen from his stable on a short time.

Polk denied that he had been stealing or selling harness.

Chief Collins believes that he has the right man and stated that Polk had told him enough to convince him of the negro's guilt.

"I believe fully twenty-five sets of harness have been stolen and want every one who has bought harness from a negro or any one else not a harness dealer, to come to my office and look at Polk," Chief Collins stated at the hall. "We believe we have made an important capture and will investigate the case thoroughly."

Rufus Sullivan, residing on Kentucky avenue, was arrested this morning on suspicion of being wanted for the same charge. He answers a description furnished by a man who lost harness, but Chief Collins does not believe he is guilty.

The Hyphens beat the Indians in a ragged game at Wallace park yesterday afternoon, the first of the present Jacksonville-Paducah series, and it was anybody's game until the close of the ninth inning.

Allen did not have anything to speak of, but held hits down to six. Miller might have pitched better ball had he been able to control his steam, but every inning a score was made it was where a man either walked or was struck by the ball.

It was a pite of bad luck. The Indians were crippled in a measure, Gilligan being out of the game, called away on account of his wife's illness, but Ben Nippert played a good game on second sack.

The visitors scored first in the second inning. Lutzshaw was struck by the ball and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Hagel sacrificed and Bertie bunted to Miller, who "footed" the ball out of the diamond; Lutzshaw scoring and Bertie making safe. The next two were retired without trouble.

The Indians tallied in this inning. Wetzel singled and went to second on Belt's wild throw. Lloyd singled and Taylor scored on the hit. The next three were retired with ease.

In the third inning the Indians scored again. Wetzel walked after two were out and Lloyd singled. Taylor doubled and Wetzel scored. Perry failed at three, retiring the side.

The Hoosiers evened it up in the fourth. Hughes walked and Lutzshaw sacrificed. Hagel grounded out and Bertie's single scored Hughes. The side was then retired.

The winning run was made in the sixth. Hughes singled and Lutzshaw fanned. Hagel singled, stole second and Bertie walked. Belt hit to Wetzel and the latter let it get away, the winning run scoring. The side was then retired.

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Child Tonic drives out malaria and builds up the system. Sold by all dealers for 27 years. Price 50 cents.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not hard work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class off by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper the badge of honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Umpire Bush quit the game yesterday. He refused to umpire because he got "called down" by President Gosnell. Bush has done good work except in the first few games. At Mattoon several days ago the manager of the Hoosiers, Eddie Kolb, was fined by Bush for disobeying ground rules, and Bush claims that Kolb was instrumental in getting him called down. Gosnell, it is alleged, accuses Bush of being partial, and not in favor of the so-called "Chumps."

Lloyd is after four men to secure one good one. "I have four fine infielders on the string and hope to land one of them," he stated. "I do not desire to give names but I will have a perfect infield all right."

It is said that Eddie Gilligan is not coming back to Paducah. Big Dan Wright will pitch today. He had played 34 games and out of that number has lost two. He has been pitching independent ball for Ironton, O.

TO SCRAP HEAP WITH OLD MEN

Exclaims Speaker Before the Medical Association.

Some Grey-Headed Doctors Denounce
But Hutchinson Clings to His First Assertion.

WOULD DIE IN THE HARNESS

Hoston, June 6.—"After men have drunk of life to the limit, and after every bit of their vital energies has been used up, I believe that they ought to go to the scrap heap," declared Dr. Woods Hutchinson in a talk at the convention of the American Medical Association. Many of the physicians who are delegates to the convention are of advanced age, and protests came from all parts of the hall. Dr. Hutchinson, who is head of the Red Plains Sanatorium in California, refused to yield in the stand he had taken.

"It is a lamentable spectacle," he continued, "to see an old man clinging to life with a determination, when his faculties are greatly impaired.
He is only occupying the place that should be given over to a younger man."

"For instance, if I have a patient who has an organic disease, and it is just a question of time when death must ensue, I advise that patient to go in and work hard at whatever he is interested in and be working when the thread of life snaps. Perhaps that patient could, by dragging along, live ten years, I tell the man to be energetic and, even if it ends his life in three years, he dies in the harness instead of dragging out a miserable existence."

When asked if he believed in Dr.
Oslee's views, Dr. Hutchinson said:
"Yes, I do. Of course, he has been misquoted and misunderstood. He did not advocate chloroforming people at the age of 60, as some people think, he said, he simply thinks that most of life's effective work is done before reaching that age. I agree with him, and I think young men should have a chance to show their ability."

MANY TEACHERS

WILL ATTEND NORMAL SCHOOL
DURING THE SUMMER.

Postponement of Election By Board
May Delay Plans of Some of Them.

The action of the school board by postponing the election of teachers, necessitated by the illness of Supt. C.
M. Leeb, will cause a slight delay to some teachers who desired to leave immediately after the close of school for colleges and summer normal schools for training in their work.

There are many Paducah teachers who contemplate going, among them being nearly the entire faculty of the High school. The list in part has been published, but a more complete list was furnished this morning. Some will go to Chicago, some to Virginia, some to Nashville and some to St.
Louis and other cities, the place being selected later.

The list is as follows: Supt. C. M.
Leeb, Principals E. G. Pava, S. J. A.
Hagdale and Miss Ada Huxelton, C.
L. Woodbury, Misses Mamie Noble
and Susan E. Smith, W. E. Everett,

If desired this train can be taken ing train leaves Louisville at 6:30 a.

FOUNDRY

WOULD BE BUILT HERE BY HARRIMAN INTERESTS.

Paducah Might Benefit In Absorption
of Illinois Central By Union Pacific.

The question of the controlling interest of the Illinois Central railroad system is of vital importance to Paducah, this having leaked out this morning through an unexpected source.
If the Union Pacific road really secures control of the Illinois Central next year, as some claim it will, it will mean a big improvement in the shops and will bring an industry here employing many men.

"If the Union Pacific road really controls the Illinois Central and takes charge and runs it next year," a railroad man acquainted with the inside facts of the matter stated this morning, "it will mean a big foundry here in addition to the already large shops."

"The Illinois Central has a small foundry here, in the rear of the roundhouse, but only the lightest castings are made. The road sends all the patterns for heavy castings to Chicago.

The matter of ownership of the Illinois Central has puzzled the public for some time, first a statement affirming the report that the Harriman interests control it being circulated only to be killed by a counter statement from some other source. It was not, however, considered a matter of importance to Paducah until the statement this morning.

In fact from indications the Union Pacific will make wonderful improvements, if it gets hold of the road for active operation.

He who makes for fun may be sorry that he won.

NEEDS CITY HALL OF LARGER GIRTH

Paducah's Offices Are Too
Crowded for Records.

Many Schemes Suggested From Extension to Structure on Entirely New Site.

COUNTY AND CITY BUILDING

Paducah needs a new city hall.

This fact is so apparent that the majority of citizens have taken it for granted and forgotten about it. Not only is the present building unsightly, but it is too small and the proposed plans for remodeling the interior were abandoned, because it simply has not the capacity to accommodate the city's business.

This especially is noticeable on the second floor, where the city auditor, city treasurer, city clerk and tax collector are all crowded into two little ante-rooms, which together would be not more than sufficient to accommodate any one of the officials conveniently.

The auditor, clerk and treasurer have numerous large books, besides other records, which they must keep open to citizens at all times, and among these books the officials and their assistants must work. As the city grows older and larger these records necessarily accumulate until soon their disposition will be a problem.

Several plans for remedying the conditions have been suggested. The city owns property to the east of the building on which a row of old frame structures now stand. The building might be extended by the addition of an east wing but that would necessitate the complete alteration of the interior of the present structure. The offices now are so situated that they could not be arranged in suites with the rooms of an addition, and the additional space would not be available without tearing out the interior.

The city hall is a cheaply constructed affair and objection would be made to spending any more money on it.
It is suggested that as the city has sufficient property at Fourth street and Kentucky avenue a new city hall might be built there.

Some of the city officials object to this because the city has grown past that section, and it is neither convenient nor attractively located. A location more in the heart of Paducah, as she is growing, is advocated by those who object to the erection of a handsome building in a neighborhood where it would never appear to the best advantage.

A Joint Building.

City Treasurer J. J. Dorian has a scheme in mind: That of the city and county going together and erecting a joint county and municipal building on the court house site.

"In that way," said Mr. Dorian
"we could have a fine building at a minimum cost on the court house lot, one of the handsomest and best located in Paducah. I think terms can easily be arranged. The court house could occupy one side and the city hall the other side. I can see no objection to such an arrangement."

Another plan is the purchase from the school board of the Longfellow school property at Fifth street and Kentucky avenue. The school board is trying to sell the property. The school is a better appearing building than the city hall, and if it can not be utilized it is argued that the corner offers a suitable site for a city hall for generations to come.

Some object to the joint county and city building on the property that in that way the outlay in public buildings and improvements makes less of a show.

Acute Rheumatism.

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet through;
worse when at rest, or on first moving the limbs and a cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Ballard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Oleson, Gibson City, Ill., writes, Feb. 16, 1902
"A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me."

Stolen Harness Sold.

A set of harness stolen from M. M.
Tucker, of 1017 Harrison street, was sold to Henry Coleman yesterday by a negro. The fact that the harness was stolen was not learned until too late to catch the boy who sold it.

Have You a Cough.

A dose of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will relieve it. Have you a cold?

Try it for whooping cough, for asthma, for consumption, for bronchitis.
Mrs. Joe McGrath, 327 E. 1st street, Hutchinson, Kans., writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for 5 years, and find it the most palatable medicine I ever used."

Daily Thought.

"To be ashamed to work is the disgrace of the degenerate."

"Local and outside capital is interested in the development of Kentucky's resources as never before, and some of the enterprises under way are of the first magnitude. There is much remaining to be done before the hill lands have reached the development the bluegrass section has so long enjoyed."—Manufacturers Record.

Heroin lies one of the errors that people of the Purchase must overcome. It is the bluegrass and the mountain, to the outsider. Unwary of story and verse the Purchase is outstripping every other section of the state, but how much faster she could grow if only her advantages were advertised to the world. The excerpt is from an editorial speaking of the possible results to Kentucky when all the guests of home coming week carry away with them reports of the marvelous growth and development of their native state. It behooves Paducah citizens to hasten to furnish names of former residents to the Commercial club, that they may be invited to Paducah June 19 to see how this city has grown. Then the citizens should see to it that they cooperate with the Commercial club in its campaign of systematically keeping Paducah's advantages before the world.

The California doctor may hold to his views about the age limit, but the "old man" who has stuck to his post and worked up while a young man until he has made himself an indispensable part of the business, is in no danger of anaesthetics. Isn't all this talk about age limits and "has-beens" rather silly, not to say cold-blooded, coming from members of a profession, half of whose art lies in gentleness and whose services we engage to preserve our lives—not to tell us when it is time to die?

It was an insult to the American laboring man to say he "will follow the leadership of his Russian brother." The American laboring man will follow the lead of no class in any country. He would have to turn backward to fall into another's wake. And we are all laboring men in America.

The Louisville Herald says there are over one hundred present at the meeting of the newspaper circulation managers. Couldn't the Herald get some of the circulation men to swear to the exact number present?

Emma Goldman the anarchist fury, said in her Chicago tirade that she would rather "enjoy the friendship of the vilest prisoners than of the president." The authorities ought to help Emma choose her company.

Now, who would have thought a discussion of the servant girl problem would precipitate a riot at a meeting of women?

This picture was made from a photograph taken after the fire, and shows the destruction wrought among the mammoth structures of the business district.

Matchless Workmanship.

Most diseases are of spinal origin. That is a characteristic generalization of Osteopathy in a nutshell, and is a contention that has never been disproved.

The Osteopathic diagnosis, and treatment are new and original, and its percentage of cures have attracted wide attention. This is history that cannot be successfully challenged.

We apply in a new way and with new force, old principles that are a part of the recognized, but theoretical teachings of every school of practice, out in an unsystematic form.

You cannot study the anatomy of the spinal column without marveling that it so seldom gets out of order. It is the most matchless piece of workmanship in all mechanics, and it is wonder that it should, sometimes, from the way it is abused, do its work at all.

By all laws of physics, the spine is liable at any moment to get out of order; it is subject to slips, wrenches, pressures, dislocations, sprains, contractions and congestions—any one of which will set up disorders—all of which require only an intelligent engineer to adjust to relieve and cure.

The Osteopath is that engineer. In just a few moments I can easily explain to you why and how Osteopathy is achieving such a wonderful success in curing all kinds of chronic and acute illnesses, and I shall take great pleasure in doing so.

Just now you may have a touch of the Spring ailment, to which we Paducahans are heir. If so, let me tell you how easily, how quickly such ailments yield to the Osteopathic treatment.

PADUCAH DEPARTMENT

Praised By Representative of Fire Engine Company.

Mr. T. R. Polglase, of Chicago, representing the American La France Fire Engine company, is in Paducah en route south and made an inspection of the Paducah fire departments. Mr. Polglase told the city the new chemical wagons and the old truck which was bought thirteen years ago. This is the first time Mr. Polglase has been in Paducah for two years and the improvements he stated were wonderful. "You have a fine enough fire department now," he declared, "and you will not find a better equipped or manned department of its size in the country I am thinking."

The visitor was high in his praises for the firemen. He has witnessed several runs made by the companies and considers them as fast as any he has ever seen.

J. C. Owen.

J. C. Owen, 75 years old, a Confederate veteran, died of general debility in Tyler at 12 o'clock last night. The deceased was born in Salem, Ky., and had been in Paducah nine years. He is survived by two sons and one daughter. The body will be taken tomorrow morning to Carversville, Ky., for burial.

The gauge at the foot of the wharf registered a stage of 7.6 this morning, a rise of 9.1 in the last 21 hours. Weather clear. River men expect a good stage of water throughout June.

At Alton, Ill., Monday the excursion steamer City of Providence was struck broadside by a gale and hurled against Fulton's wharf, wrecking that and twelve private yachts. There were 800 passengers, the larger part children, on board. A panic was prevented possibly by the presence of mind of the leader of a military band on the boat. He started the band to playing, thus diverting the minds of the children. The steamer was not injured to any extent. The loss to the wharf and yachts was $12,000.—St. Louis Republic.

The Clyde is at the wharf ready to leave this evening at 6 o'clock for the Tennessee river.

The City of Saltillo arrived last night at 9 o'clock and left at 11 o'clock for the Tennessee river.

The Joe Fowler was the Evansville jacket today.

The Dick Fowler left on time this morning for Cairo with another good passenger list.

The Peters Lee is due up tomorrow from Memphis to Cincinnati and was put in. The Georgia Lee will put down Saturday from Cincinnati to Memphis.

The Times Lee arrived yesterday from Memphis to go on the ways here or repairs. The T. H. Davis and the steamer Natchez are on the ways at present and the James Lee will have to wait until the Davis goes off.

The Kentucky will come out of the Tennessee river Thursday night and be over up E Saturday evening before starting on the return trip to the Tennessee river.

Captain W. D. Pugh is in the city for a few days looking for boats and barges.

Captain J. B. Smith, of Brockport, is in the city today.

The Georgia Lee on her last trip up from Memphis to Cincinnati had a strenuous time and was up against bad luck on several occasions. Just above Caseyville she burned her boilers and was forced to go on half steam. A few hours later she struck on the shoals at "J. C." a short distance above Shinnestown. The crew succeeded in getting her off and she made slow headway to Evansville, where her boilers were repaired temporarily. She left that place early Sunday for Cincinnati.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio from Evansville to Mt. Vernon will rise today. At Paducah and Cairo will continue rising during the next two or three days.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, no material change during the next 36 hours.

The Mississippi from Chester to Cairo, will continue rising during the next 36 hours.

Courier-Journal: Steel barges are finding considerable favor over the wooden craft of that type on Western rivers. While the first cost of a steel barge of course is considerably greater in the long run it outlasts the wooden vessel, giving many more years of hard service.

The condition of the upper Ohio is still against any prospect of coal-boat water. The rise at Pittsburg was but for a day and not sufficient to float the big field of coal over the low places, and it has given place to a decline which promises to hold on a while. Cincinnati and Louisville reported a decline. At St. Louis the rise continues.

Will Appeal Schwab Case.

Attorneys for creditors in the bankrupt matter of Mowea Schwab are preparing to appeal the decision of Judge Walter Evans, of Louisville, and will file the necessary papers this week. The appeal will be made to the circuit court of appeals in Cincinnati. Judge Evans confirmed the action of the referee, Hon. E. W. Hagby, who decided that the claim of T. Schwab, wife of the bankrupt, amounting to over $2,000, was good, and ordered it paid. He also overruled exceptions filed to the petition for a discharge on the claim that Schwab had failed the account of $10,000 in his petition.

Referee Hagby Sustained.

Referee E. W. Hagby has been upheld in three actions which have been pending in the bankruptcy court for some time, and the action of the court speaks much for his judgment. The actions were reported to the federal clerk here this morning and are in the cases of Will Harris & Co., Will Linn and L. C. Linn of Murray, M. G. Sale, of the city, and Thomas Reeves, of Ballard county. In each action Hagby had been made against the discharge and in each Referee Hagby overruled the specifications of exceptions and sent the cases to Louisville with recommendations for a discharge. This morning the court reported his action, confirming the decision of Judge Hagby.

AUTOMOBILE

MANUFACTURE IS REVOLUTIONIZED IF IT SUCCEEDS.

W. H. Parham Patents Scheme to Do Away With Pneumatic Tires and Springs.

W. H. Parham has invented a wheel which is expected to do away with pneumatic tires and springs on automobiles. The improvement in the wheel is in the spokes, they being elliptical, the pointed end resting on the hub and the round end resting against the rim. Hard rubber tires will be used.

Foreman Bros. have examined the wheel and believe it to be a good thing. Parties in St. Louis who have seen the wheel think that if successful it will be used extensively on railway coaches as well as automobiles. Mr. Parham has gone to Anderson, Ind., to make a practical test of the wheel and it is satisfactory the invention will develop a large industry. Mr. W. H. Parham and Mr. F. E. Lack are joint owners of the patent.

BARBED WIRE

SERIOUSLY INJURED STORM-FRIGHTENED HORSE.

Rushes Against Fence and Pieces Are Torn From Legs and Breast By Barbs.

A fine horse belonging to Mr. Charles Kirchoff, of the Afton Heights section of the county, was badly injured yesterday afternoon in a mad rush against a barbed wire fence. The horse was in a pasture. The wind blew down a rotten tree stump and the horse became frightened. It ran into the fence and tore great pieces of flesh from its legs and breast. The wounds will get well and it is thought, will not mean a permanent injury, no tendons or muscles being severed.

TOO MUCH JEWELRY.

Rosa Campbell Caught Prowling and Held On Suspicion.

Rosa Campbell, colored, is under arrest for disorderly conduct, and pending trial the police are investigating another matter and hope to bring him into a serious charge. Campbell resides in the rear of the Empire flats on Broadway and last night was found prying about some private residences. He was seen and arrested. It is stated he was not entirely dressed and after the arrest was made, police officers made a search of his room and found several valuable diamond rings and trinkets. Campbell will have to tell where he got the jewelry.

This afternoon an examination of the jewelry found in the prisoner's room was made and one small diamond ring had engraved on the inside "H. K. to L. M. S." This may be tonight before the French Meteorological original owner of the jewelry, if it is stolen.

Beautiful Ceremony.

The wedding of Miss Henriette Koger and Dr. Vernon Blythe, which was solemnized last evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Broadway Methodist church, was especially beautiful and was witnessed by a large and brilliant assemblage.

The church was most effectively decorated in green and white. The chancel was a bank of palms and ferns with the graceful southern am-lax entwined in the altar rail and festooned about the double doorway and windows. The windows were, also, banked with ferns. The only flowers used were the Ascension Lilies. Sheets of these were in the aisles where the white ribbons crossed, and were on each side of the altar where the bride couple knelt. They were, also, used with pretty effect among the green plants and vines.

The bride party advanced to the altar simultaneously down the three main aisles. Miss Marie Scovel, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Miss Martha Davis Mr. Edison Hurt and Mr. Edward Bringham entering from the left; Miss Mabel Weeks and Miss Ruth Well, Mr. Dow Wilcox and Dr. L. B. Howell from the right; and Miss Ann Rhea and Miss Frances Harris, of Nashville, Tenn., Mr. David Koger and Dr. Frank Bourne in the center aisle preceded the maid of honor, Miss May Phelps, of Washington, D. C. The bride entered with her father Capt. James Koger. At the altar the bride party were met by the groom and the best man, Mr. Arthur Y. Martin and the ceremony was said by the Rev. M. E. Chappell, of Princeton, Ky. Mr. Harry Gilbert was at the organ. The Lohegrin wedding march was the procession, "Simple Confession" was played throughout the ceremony; and the Mendelssohn wedding march was the recessional.

The bride looked especially charming in a beautiful dress of white satin, made princess and trimmed with real lace. She wore the bridal veil with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies.

The maid of honor, a strikingly handsome girl, was effectively gowned in white net over silk, artistically trimmed with pink roses. She wore the short veil fastened with the pink Prince of Wales tips and carried pink roses.

The bridesmaids were very charming in pretty gowns of white radium silk and bridesmaid's veil with the pink Prince of Wales tips. They carried shower bouquets of pink sweet peas.

After the church ceremony the bride party and a limited number of friends were entertained at the home of Capt. and Mrs. James Koger on Jefferson street. The house was most attractively decorated in white and green, lilies, roses and ferns being used in the parlors and dining room.

The bride's table was a pretty effect in white, pink and green. A tall vase of bride roses arranged on a mirror filled the center. The tea was white and green and the cakes were leaved with pink and green roses on white. The candy was wreaths of pink, white and green.

The bride's cake had white ribbons extending to the places of the bride party, these were pulled instead of the cake being cut. The ring fell to Miss Ruth Well; the thimble to Miss Kathleen Whitfield; the blue to Miss Frances Harris; the button to Miss Marie Scovel; the copper cent to Miss May Phelps; the shoe to Mr. David Koger. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Phelps.

Among the out-of-town guests present for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Rhea and Miss Louise Rhea, of Nashville; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Isler, of Hickman; Mr. and Mrs. John Dillon, of Hickman; Mr. J. C. Helmer, of Covington, Ky.

Dr. and Mrs. Blythe left at 3:45 this morning on an extended bridal trip and will be at home after June 30 at 725 Jefferson street.

Mrs. Ethel Watts Mumford Married. The New York Herald of Sunday says:

"In the presence of relatives only Mrs. Ethel Watts Mumford, playwright, authoress and artist, was married to Mr. Peter Geddes Grant yesterday at the residence of her brother, Mrs. D. G. Watts, No. 31 West 81st street. Mrs. Mumford, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Samuel Hughes Watts, was unattended. Mr. Grant's best man was Mr. Rufus Leavitt, Mr. and Mrs. Grant will pass the greater part of the summer at their country house in Port Washington, L. I. In August they will sail for a visit to Mrs. Grant's former home in Scotland."

Mrs. Grant is a niece of Mrs. Ashnle Hughes Morrow and Messrs. Samuel, Will, Haskell and George Hughes, of this city. She often visited here as a child. Miss Ethel Morrow, a cousin, was in New York for the wedding and will remain for the summer with her aunt, Mrs. Watts.

Delightful Chapter Meeting.

Paducah chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held its meeting for June yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Henry Horace Cleugh, on Clay and Ninth streets. It was the final meeting of the chapter until September and there was much routine business to be transacted. A social meeting followed the business session. Mrs. Henry H. Duley gave an interesting recitation and Miss Stella Coleman some piano selections. A delightful two-course luncheon was served. The tea was in red and white and had the Confederate and British flags symbolized in compliment to the southland and to Mrs. Cleugh's adopted country, her husband being an Englishman. It was a pretty design, effectively carried out.

The September meeting of the chapter will be with the president, Mrs. Joseph H. Thompson, of Jefferson street.

Reception to Seniors.

The reception given the graduating class of 1936 by the Junior and Sophomore classes of the Paducah High School, at the High school last night was a success. The reception was attended by the members of the school board, which held a short session preceding the reception and the affair was one of the most pleasant and satisfactory of the year. There were about 200 present.

Class Day.

Tonight the class day exercises will be held at the High school auditorium and there will be a large audience to greet the class. The exercises are not open to all but only to those who are invited. Invitations were sent to the friends and families of the graduates and only these will be admitted. The class is fully up in the program and the exercises doubtless will go through without a hitch.

THE MAN ON THE BOX

By HAROLD MacGRATH
Author of "The Grey Clock," "The Puppet Crown"

Copyright, 1904, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

"He does that, sir," replied the groom. "He has never taken less than a red ribbon. Only one horse beat him at the best last winter in New York. It was Mr. Warburton's fault that he did not take first prize. He rode him in the park the day before the contest and the animal caught cold, sir."

And then it was that this hero of mine conceived his great (not to say young and snail) idea. It appeared to him as being so rich an idea that the stables rang with his laughter.

"Sir?" politely inquired the groom. "I'm not laughing at your statement, my good fellow; rather at an idea which just occurred to me. In fact, I believe that I shall need your assistance."

"In what way, sir?" "Come with me."

The groom followed Warburton into the yard. A conversation began in low tones.

"It's as much as my place is worth, sir. I couldn't do it, sir," declared the groom, shaking his head negatively.

"I'll guarantee that you will not suffer in the least. My brother will not discharge you. He likes a joke as well as I do. You are not handed $20 every day for a simple thing like this."

"Very well, sir. I dare say that no harm will come of it. But I am an inch or two shorter than you."

"We'll tide that over."

"I am at your orders, sir." But the groom returned to the stables, shaking his head dubiously. He was not thoroughly convinced.

During the morning ride down-town the two women were vastly puzzled over their brother's frequent and inexplicable peals of laughter.

"For mercy's sake, what do you see that is so funny?" asked Nancy.

"I'm thinking, my dear; only thinking."

"Tell us, that we may laugh too. I'll wager that you are up to some mischief, Master Robert. Please tell," Nancy urged.

"Later, later; at present you would fall to appreciate the joke. In fact, you might make it mischievous; and that wouldn't do at all. Have a little patience. It's a good joke, and you'll be in it when the time comes."

And nothing more could they worm out of him.

CHAPTER V.

THE PLOT THICKENS.

At dinner that night I met my hero face to face for the first time in eight years and for all his calling me a duffer (I learned of this only recently), he was mighty glad to see me, slapped me on the back and threw his arm across my shoulder. And why shouldn't he have been glad? We had been boys together, played hooky many a school-time afternoon, gone over the same fishing grounds, plunged into the same swimming-holes, and smoked our first cigar in the rear of my father's barn; and it is the recollection of such things that cement all the more strongly friendship in man and man. We recalled a thousand episodes and escapades, the fleekings we got, and the fleekings the others got in our stead, the pretty school-teacher whom we swore to wed when we grew up. Nobody else had a chance to get a word in edgewise. But Nancy laughed aloud at times. She had been a witness to many of these long-ago pranks.

"What! you are not going to the hall?" I asked, observing that he wore only a dinner-coat and a pair of morocco slippers.

"No hall for me. Just as soon as you people his forth, off comes this lilted shirt, and I shall probably meander around the house in my new silk pajamas. I shall read a little from Homer—Jack, let me have the key to that locked case. I've an idea that there must be some robust old, merry old tales hidden there—and smoke a few pipes."

"NO BALL FOR ME."

"But you are not going to leave Mrs. Warburton and your sister to come home without escort?" I expostulated.

"Where the deuce are you two men going?" Robert asked, surprised. Somehow, I seemed to catch a joyful rather than a sorrowful note in his tones.

"An important conference at midnight, and heaven only knows how long it may last," said Jack. "I wish you would go along, Bob."

"He can't go now, anyhow," said the pretty little wife. "He has got to stay now, whether he will or no. William will see to it that we women get home all right,"—and she hustled herself with the snail's pace.

"Go to the ball, you beauties, dance and revel to your heart's content; your brother Robert will manage to pass away the evening. Don't forget the key to that private case, Jack,"—as the women left the table to put the finishing touches to their toilets.

"Here you are," said Jack. "But mind, you must put those books back just as you found them, and lock the case. They are rare editions."

"With the accent on the rare, no doubt."

"I am a student, pure and simple," said Jack, lowering his eyes.

"I wouldn't swear to those adjectives," returned the scowl. "If I remember, you had the reputation of being a high-flute man in your class at Princeton."

"Sh! Don't you dare to drag forth any of those fool corpses of college, or out you go, bag and baggage." Jack glanced nervously around the room and toward the hall.

"My dear fellow, your wife wouldn't believe me, no matter what I said against your character. Isn't that right, Chuck? Jack, you are a lucky dog. If there ever was one. A handsome wife who loves you, a kid, a fine home and plenty of horses. I wonder if you married her for her money?"

Jack's eyes narrowed. He seemed to muse. "Yes, I believe I can do it as easily as I did 15 years ago."

"Do what?" I asked.

"Wallow that kid brother of mine, Bob. I hope you'll fall desperately in love some day, and that you will have a devil of a time winning the girl. You need something to stir up your vitals. By George! and I hope she won't have a cent of money."

"Lovely brother, that!" Bob knocked the ashes from his cigar and essayed at laughter which wasn't particularly felicitous. "Supposing I was in love, now, and that the girl had heaps of money, and all that?"

"And all that," mimicked the elder brother. "What does 'and all that' mean?"

"Oh, shut up!"

"Well, I hope you are in love. It serves you right. You've made more than one girl's heart ache, you good-looking ruffian!"

Then he switched over to politics, and Robert became an interested listener. Quarter of an hour later the women returned, and certainly they made a picture which was most satisfactory to the masculine eye. Bob jumped to his feet and kissed them both, a thing I lacked the courage to do. How pleased they looked! How a woman loves flattery from those she loves!

Well, William is in front with the carriage; the women are putting on their cloaks, and I am admiring the luxurious crimson fur-lined garment which brother Robert had sent to Nancy from Paris. You will see by this that he was not altogether a thoughtless lad. Good-by, Mr. Robert. I leave you and your guiding-star to bolt the established orbit; for, after this night the world will never be the same careless, happy-go-lucky world. The farce has its tragedy, and what tragedy is free of the ludicrous? Youth must run its course, even as the gay, wild brook must riot on its way to join the sober river.

I dare say that we hadn't gone 20 minutes before Robert stole out to the stables, only to return immediately with a bundle under his arm and a white felt hat perched rakishly on his head. He was chuckling audibly to himself.

"It will frighten the girls half to death. A gray horse and a bay; oh, I won't make any mistake. Let me see: I'll start about 12 o'clock. That'll get me to the spot just as the boys leave. This is the richest yet. I'll wager that there will be some tall screaming." He continued chuckling as he helped himself to his brother's perfect and fine old Scotch. I don't know what book he found in the private case: some old rascal's merry tales, no doubt; for my hero's face was never in repose.

We had left Mrs. Secretary-of-the-Interior's and were entering the red brick mansion on Connecticut avenue. Carriages lined both sides of the street, and mounted police patrolled up and down.

"Poor boy!" sighed Nancy. "I wonder if he'll be lonely. It's a shame to leave him home the very first night."

"Why didn't he come, then?" Mrs. W. shrugged her polished shoulders.

"Oh, my cigars and Scotch are fairly comforting," put in Jack, complacently. "Besides, Jane isn't at all bad looking,"—winking at me. "What do you say, Charlie?"

But Charlie had not time to answer. The gray-haired, gray-whiskered ambassador was bowing pleasantly to us. A dozen notable military and naval attaches nodded; and we passed on to the ball-room, where the orchestra was playing "A Summer Night in Munich."

In a moment Jack and his wife were lost in the maze of gleaming shoulders and white linen. It was a picture such as few men, once having witnessed it, can forget. Here were the great men in the great world: this man was an old rear-admiral, destined to become the nation's hero soon; there, a famous general, of long and splendid service; celebrated statesmen, diplomats, financiers; a noted English duke; a scion of the Hapsburg family; an intimate of the German kaiser; a swart Jap; a Chinaman with his peacock feather; tens of men whose lightest word was listened to by the four ends of the world; representatives of all the great kingdoms and states. The president and his handsome wife had just left as we came, so we missed that formality, which detracts from the pleasures of the ball-room.

"Who is that handsome young fellow over there, standing at the side of the Russian ambassador's wife?" asked Nancy, pressing my arm.

"Where? Oh, he's Count Kerloff (or something that sounds like it), a wealthy Russian, in some way connected with the Russian government; a diplomat and a capital fellow, they say. I have never met him."

"Hello! there's a stunning girl right next to him that I haven't seen before. Where are you going?"

Nancy had dropped my arm and was gazing, kitty-corner fashion, across the floor. Presently she and the stunning girl had saluted each other after the impulsive fashion of American girls, and were playing cat-in-the-hat to the amusement of those foreigners nearest.

"A nod, and I was threading my way to Nancy's side. 'Isn't it glorious?' she began. 'This is Miss Annesley, Charlie; Betty, Mr. Henderson.' Miss Annesley looked mildly curious at Nan, who suddenly flushed. 'We are to be married in the spring,' she exclaimed shyly; and I dare say that there was a different expression on my own face."

Miss Annesley gave me her hand, smiling. "You are a fortunate man, Mr. Henderson."

"Not the shadow of a doubt!" Miss Annesley, I frankly admitted on the spot, was, next to Nancy, the handsomest girl I ever saw; and as I thought of Mr. Robert in his den at home, I sincerely pitied him. I was willing to advance the statement that had he known, a pair of crutches would not have kept him away from No. 1300 Connecticut avenue.

I found three chairs, and we sat down. There was, for me, very little opportunity to talk. Women always have so much to say to each other, even when they haven't seen each other within 24 hours. From time to time Miss Annesley glanced at me, and I am positive that Nancy was extolling my charms. It was rather embarrassing, and I was hailing my gloves up in a most dreadful fashion.

As they seldom addressed a word to me, I soon became absorbed in the passing scene. I was presently aroused, however.

"Mr. Henderson, Count Kerloff," Miss Annesley was saying. (Kerloff is a name of my own choosing. I haven't the remotest idea if it means anything in the Russian language. I hope not.)

"Charming!" The count's face was very pleasantly rolled. I could see by the way his gaze roved from Miss Annesley to Nancy that he was puzzled to decide which came the nearer to his idea of womanhood.

I found him a most engaging fellow, surprisingly well-informed on American topics. I credit myself with being a fairly good reader of faces, and, reading his as he bent in to Miss Annesley's direction, I began to worry about Mr. Robert's course of true love. Here was a man who possessed a title, was handsome, rich, and of assured social position; it would take an extraordinary American girl to look coldly upon his attentions. By and by the two left us. Miss Annesley promising to call on Nancy.

"And where are you staying, Betty?" "Father and I have taken Senator Blank's house in Chevy Chase for the winter. My horses are already in the stables. Do you ride?"

"I do."

"Then we shall have some great times together."

"Be sure to call. I want you to meet my brother."

"I believe I have," replied Miss Annesley.

"I mean my younger brother, a lieutenant in the army."

"Oh, then you have two brothers?" "Yes," said Nancy.

"The dance is dying, Mademoiselle," said the count in French.

"Your arm, Monsieur. Au revoir, Nancy."

"Poor Bobby!" Nancy folded her hands and sighed mournfully. "It appears to me that his love affair is not going to run very smooth. But isn't she just beautiful, Charlie? What color, what style?"

"She's a stunner. I'm forced to admit. Bobby'll never stand a ghost of a show against that Russian. He's a great social catch, and is backed by many kopecks."

"How unfortunate we did not know that she would be here! Bobby would have met her at his best, and his best is more to my liking than the count's. He has a way about him that the women like. He's no laggard. But money ought not to count with Betty. She is worth at least $250,000. Her mother left all her property to her, and her father acts only as trustee. Senator Blank's house rents for $5,000 the season. It's ready furnished, you know, and one of the handsomest homes in Washington. Besides, I do not trust those foreigners,"—taking a remarkably abrupt curve, as it were.

"There's two B's in your bonnet, Nancy," I laughed.

"Never mind the B's; let us have the last of this waltz."

This is not my own true story; so I shall bow off and permit my hero to follow the course of true love, which is about as rough-going a thoroughfare as the merry roads of life have to offer.

Mr. Newlywed—"Did you say this was pound cake, my dear?"

Mrs. Newlywed—"Yes, precious, and I made it myself."

Mr. Newlywed—"Are you quite sure you—er—pounded it enough?"

HOSE BURSTS

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS CRIPPLED BY LACK OF EQUIPMENT.

Work On Fire Station, No. 2, Nearly Is Completed and Engine Will Be Installed.

Bids for 3,000 feet of new fire hose will be asked for by the fire committee of the general council, as soon as it is authorized by the board of aldermen Thursday night. The city is in need of some new hose, several sections bursting at a recent fire.

The work on the addition to fire station, No. 2, is nearly completed and will be finished probably this week. The installation of the fire engine in this station will follow on the heels of completion, the manufacturer desiring to have all the fire protection possible at once.

Harry Rudolph, stationman at the station, No. 4, is reported better today. He is suffering from blood poisoning, the result of running a nail in his hand two weeks ago.

RENT PAYS FOR LAND.

Fertile Sections of the Southwest, Where Land Sells for $15 and Rents for $5 Per Acre.

One of the remarkable things about about Eastern Arkansas and Northern Louisiana is the fact that cleared land rents for $5 per acre cash, and can be bought for $7.50 to $15 per acre. It costs from $6 to $10 an acre to clear it. Other improvements necessary are slight and inexpensive.

The soil is rich alluvial, or made, it produces a bale of cotton per acre worth $45 to $60. This accounts for its high rental value. Other crops such as corn, small grains, grapes, vegetables and fruits thrive as well. Alfalfa yields 4 to 6 cuttings, a ton to a cutting, and brings $10 to $16 per ton.

In other sections of these states and in Texas as well, the rolling or hill-land is especially adapted to stock raising and fruit growing. Land is very cheap, $5 to $10 per acre; improved farms $10, $15 to $25 per acre.

The new White River country offers many opportunities for settlers. High, rolling, fine water—it is naturally adapted to stock and fruit raising. Can be bought as low as $2 per acre.

See this great country for yourself and pick out a location. Descriptive literature, with maps, free on request.

Syndicate Investment.

We offer a special opportunity for those who would like to join a syndicate and put in from $100 to $7,000, and in all probability make 50 per cent on the money in three years. We have 43 houses in Worthen's South Side Addition that we can sell for $24,000; $7,000 cash and the balance $200 per month, and as these houses have a gross rental value of $360 per month, it is probable that all it will cost the purchaser is the first payment, as the tenants will pay the rest. This makes a liberal allowance for losses, vacant houses and expenses. Six vacant lots will be included without extra charge in this proposition. We believe this is one of the best opportunities we have ever offered to investors. It is probable that the electric car line will go out Tennessee street through this addition and in this event this property would rise rapidly in value. It is an easy matter to make money out of the above proposition, and we will give any desired information concerning it to any one interested. Anyone having $100 or more to invest would do well to investigate this matter, and call on or telephone us, and it may be that the investment will pay three dollars for each.

THE N. Y. CENTRAL OWNS SOME STOCK

Given the Railroads "For Traffic Reasons."

Contract for Coal Concern to Mine So Much Fuel and Railroad to Furnish Cars.

CASSATT MAY NOT TESTIFY

Philadelphia, Pa., June 6.—It is not certain that A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, will be called as a witness before the Interstate Commerce Commission which resumed its investigation into alleged discrimination in the distribution of coal cars.

E. V. R. Rossiter, vice president of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, in charge of the financial department, was the first witness. The examination was conducted by Attorney E. H. Whitney, of New York. Mr. Rossiter stated that he is a director of the Beech Creek Coal and Coke company, representing the interests of the railroad company on that board. While now a part of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company, its business was conducted under its original title. The railroad, the witness said, owns 5,000 shares of preferred, 5,000 shares of common stock and $3,000,000 worth of 5 per cent bonds in the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company.

"How did the railroad acquire its stock in the original coal and coke company?" inquired Commissioner Cockrell.

"It was given to the railroad in 1891, when the coal company was organized."

"The railroad paid no cash for it?"

"No, it was given for traffic reasons."

Signed Contract.

Continuing Mr. Rossiter said that a contract had been signed by the railroad and the coal company and the stock was given in consideration of the contract.

This contract was produced by counsel for the railroad company and read by Mr. Whitney. It was dated July 17, 1901, and by its provisions the coal company agreed to mine at least one million tons of coal every year and the railroad to furnish cars equal to that amount of coal annually, exclusive of fuel cars. The railroad further agreed to interest itself in no other coal company excepting the Clearfield bituminous coal corporation. The railroad also agreed to purchase 500,000 tons of fuel coal every year.

Mr. Rossiter said the Clearfield corporation was a merger of a number of small companies owned by the New York Central. These companies he said, supplied only fuel coal to the railroad.

Commissioner Clements questioned Mr. Rossiter concerning the policy of the New York Central as to its officials holding stock in coal mining companies.

He said there was no absolute rule but it was tacitly understood to be against the policy for officials to hold such stock.

In his report he recommended that Trustee Stehlin, Jr., be expelled from the board for alleged criminal negligence.

cratic railroad commission committee of the Second district, has called a meeting to be held Tuesday, June 12, at 3 p. m. in Louisville, at the Old Inn, for the purpose of fixing the time and manner of nominating a candidate for railroad commissioner from this district.

Lightning Strikes Two.

Stanford, Ky., June 6.—Henderson Young was killed by lightning this afternoon near Highland, this county, and a son of John Will Carrier was dangerously injured. He cannot recover.

Lightning's Freaks.

Mayfield, June 6.—Lightning did some very funny stunts Monday afternoon during the electrical storm. At the home of Otto Allfield, near Pryorburg, several bricks were knocked from the chimney and several planks from the side of the house and blackspots in various places as if it had been scorched.

Lightning struck the stable of Circuit Clerk A. W. Wilson, on East Ann street, causing it to catch fire.

Mrs. Joe Sellers was standing at a window with one hand on the glass and the other on a pillow. A bolt of lightning caused a streak of fire to pass over her head inflicting a painful burn. Her arms were drenched from the shock but otherwise from the burn she was not injured.

Owensboro Fair Cases.

C. C. Grassham Believes in Signs Since Receiving Reply to Query.

In the Kentucky Law Reporter a man who makes signs has an advertisement which professes so much confidence in himself to turn out signs which would be satisfactory to lawyers, that Mr. C. C. Grassham wrote to the editor of the periodical. The rather unique query and reply are given:

"Dear Sir—I see in Vol. —, of Ky. Law Reporter, in issue of May —, advertisement of —, 'The Sign Man,' in which he says 'I make all kinds of signs.' If he does this, can you tell me how he ever expects anybody to understand him? Does he explain to the people what his signs mean, and do you think he will ever outgrow the habit? Why don't you have him quit making signs and go to talking? He says he knows the kind of sign I ought to have; if so, can he tell me what it is, and tell me just when the sign is right? Does he consult the Almanac to understand his signs, or does it come natural? He asks about my sign; well, they sometimes hit and sometimes miss, but they say 'no sign is good in dry weather.' What I want is a sign that won't fail in dry weather? Do his signs fail? He says he makes the best sign for lawyers. I want to know what the best sign is; and when it will work all through the year; if not what is the best time to work it? The fact is, I don't know anything about signs, and 'inasmuch' as you may know all about them, please tell me what sign I need. Does the moon have any effect on these signs? If so, does it effect the 'sign man'? Does the 'sign man' fall when the moon falls? If he does; tell me why he don't quarter when the moon quarters? He ought to explain all this in his card; because if a man who don't understand signs should get hold of one of his signs, he might get it mixed with some other sign and there might be some confusion."

"If you don't care to answer this, just make a sign that I can understand and that will be sufficient."

"Dear Sir—While disclaiming any responsibility for the wording of my friend Ramsey's advertisement, I want to say for him that he can talk as well as make signs, and if you want a sign which will talk to the people he is the lad who will get it up for you all right. If you desire a sign which will tell the at all times, in all seasons and weather, regardless of Old Probs, the groundhog and corn shuck you want to hook on to him. They never fail, neither do the people who buy them, for they have brass. They work all right six days in the week, neither do they let up on the seventh—regardless of whether the lid be on or off. They are not recommended for moonshine, speakeasy and bootleg sections, but work to a charm amid the fluctuations of wet and dry. They are impervious to the influence of the moon but are sometimes responsible for men becoming moon-eyed. The sign man may occasionally try to fall on area while the other fellow holds a straight flash, which may cause him to reach his last quarter when I present my bill. When in our city he sure to look for the sign of Yours truly."

Lake Commerce First Four Months Amounted to Just 4,365,305 Tons.

Lake commerce during April and the first four months of 1906 exceeds that of like periods in any earlier year, and suggests a new record for lake tonnage in 1906. For the month shipments from all points on these great bodies of water amounted to 4,365,505 net tons, while for the year to April 30 they aggregated 5,418,481, a gain for the month of 1,275,012, and for the four months of 1,592,656 net tons, if compared with corresponding movements in 1905.

It should be noted, however, that the usually heavy westbound movement of coal was probably in some degree due to the storing of vast quantities of this commodity at eastern ports prior to the opening of the lakes, in anticipation of a coal strike, while the general movement of nearly all articles of commerce may have been accelerated by the fear of a general strike among steamship employees of which there seemed to be a probability during the entire month.
